BACHELORETTE WEEKEND GETAWAYS

YES, A BRIDE REMEMBERS HER wedding for the rest of her life. But she'll also never forget that quintessential all-girls rite of passage that precedes it: the bachelorette party. Whether the multiday extravaganza is debauched, decompressing or downright decadent, it should bring the bride-to-be's best friends together to collectively kiss off her singledom. Seeking destinations that will make the event appropriately memorable? Read on.

Nibble and Sip in Napa and Sonoma

In Sonoma, stop by laid-back B.R. Cohn Winery, owned by the Doobie Brothers' manager; he's often behind the mahogany bar regaling tasters with rock 'n' roll tales as he pours high-quality wine.
